

CONCORDIA STINGERS BASKETBALL

1981-82 YEARBOOK

Every Community can have a Successful "Olympics" Program.

It's not whether you win or lose but doing your best that counts.

Which is why we, in cooperation with the Canadian Olympic Association, sponsor the Royal Bank Junior Olympics.

It provides chances for Canada's youth to develop their athletic/artistic skills, achieve an understanding of the true Olympic spirit and most of all, to have fun.

All participants in approved Junior Olympics athletic and cultural events receive an official crest. Attractive 1st, 2nd and 3rd place ribbons are also awarded to the winners of the "finals" in each event organized for each age group. Posters are available to publicize the events.

Each person who takes part, including adult organizers and officials also receives an entry form to the Junior Olympics "Scholarship" Contest with 621 annual prizes which include, for youngsters 10 scholarships of $1,000 each and for adults, depending on the year, a trip for two to the Commonwealth, Pan American or Olympic Games via CP Air.

Why not organize a Junior Olympics competition for youngsters in your neighbourhood? Just contact your nearest Royal Bank branch for more information or write to the Program Co-ordinator, Canadian Olympic Association, 333 River Road, Vanier, Ontario K1L 8B9.

In the Olympics success is participating and achieving your full potential.

When you succeed...we succeed.

STINGER COACHES

DOUG DAIGNEAULT HEAD MEN'S COACH

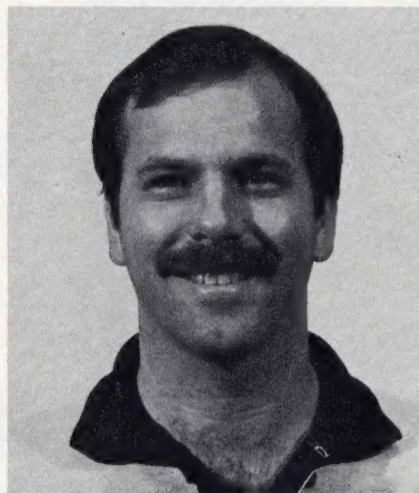

Doug Daigneault is one of the most successful coaches in Canadian University Basketball history with a 328-178 overall record in 15 seasons. His outstanding record includes nine titles and an unprecedented string of 66 consecutive victories in league play from 1968 to 1972. Doug has been named "Coach of the Year" on three different occasions and is a charter member of the National Association of Basketball Coaches of Canada.

The 1980-81 season represented one of his finest, as he led the Stingers to their second consecutive Quebec University Athletic Union Championship and a third-place finish in the Canadian National Championships. Plagued by injuries and inconsistent performances, coach Daigneault rallied his team in early January as the Stingers won 15 of their last 16 games. He also coached the varsity football team at Loyola and Concordia during the mid '70s, directing the Loyola Warriors to a Prairie Bowl appearance in 1972.

Born in Montreal, Doug was raised in Malone, New York and has been acclaimed as one of the finest all-round athletes ever to be produced in the upper New York State region. He earned All-Star honours at Franklin Academy in basketball, football and baseball. He continued playing basketball and football at Clemson University where he received a Bachelor of Science degree. While at Clemson, Doug played in three major bowl games, the Orange Bowl, the Bluebonnet Bowl and the Sugar Bowl. After graduation, Doug returned to Canada where he helped lead the Ottawa Roughriders to a Grey Cup in his rookie year. Doug later played for the Montreal Alouettes and was appointed Basketball coach of Loyola College in 1966 by Dr. Ed Enos.

Coach Daigneault's daughters have also excelled in competitive sports. Lois and Debbie are presently attending Clemson and Miami Universities respectively, on swimming scholarships, while Julie is a member of the Canadian National Swim team.

JOHN DORE ASSISTANT COACH

John Dore returns to the Concordia basketball program this season as assistant coach of the men's team and if past performance holds true, he will have a successful tenure at the west end campus. Coach Dore first received notoriety at Loyola/Concordia when he was named a Q.U.A.A. All-Star three times, and earned a reputation as a fierce competitor, while playing for coach Daigneault.

An outstanding defensive player, John was always given the task of guarding the opposition's top offensive player, even though it occasionally meant covering a much taller player. Although his tenacious play often overshadowed his offensive skills, John was a proficient scorer with a career scoring average of 15.7 points per game.

Following his graduation from Concordia (BSc. '75), John accepted a position as Athletic Director at St. Georges High School in Westmount and was appointed assistant coach of the Concordia Women's team. Following a two-year stint at Concordia (which included a third place finish in the Nationals), John became the head coach of Vanier College's men's varsity team. He compiled a two year record of 35-25 including two playoff appearances, and was credited with developing several university players.

Coach Dore has also been very active in summer camps and Royal Bank Clinics.

John lives in Cote St. Luc with his wife Malka (a former Loyola basketball star in her own right) and daughter Lisa.

TRAINING STAFF

RUSS BLACKWELL: A veteran of 20 years training experience with the Montreal Beavers of the Continental Football League and the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian League. Russ serves as Trainer and Equipment Manager for the Football Stingers. In 1977, Russ acted as trainer for Canada's student National Hockey Team.

KEN LOWE: A graduate of Concordia's Bio-Physical Education programme, Ken maintains the Concordia Therapy room as one of the finest in the country. As well as being Athletic Therapist for the Stingers, Ken also assists the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL.

ECONOMICS

FLASHBACKS

When Montreal sports fans think back to the early 1970's, they are reminded of the fierce rivalry between the Loyola and Sir George Williams athletic departments. In basketball, the rivalry heated up when Tom Brethel arrived at the Sir George campus in the fall of 1971 and long suffering Georgian fans immediately took hope in the flashy guard from New York City.

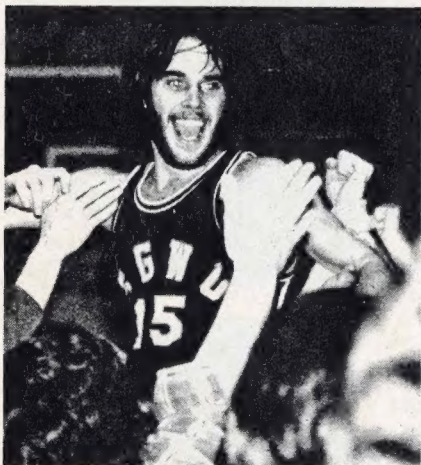

Their dreams were realized in the first meeting between Loyola and Sir George before a packed gym on the Loyola Campus. Brethel, held scoreless in the first half, sparked a second half rally which saw the Georgians overcome a 25 point half-time deficit and defeat the heavily favored Warriors 86-85. Brethel's two foul shots with six seconds remaining in the game, snapped a 66 game league winning streak.

But revenge was Loyola's as the Warriors easily won the next three games including one in the league playoffs. The following season was all Loyola's as Daigneault assembled one of the finest teams in the country. Led by guards John Erglis, John Dore and Wayne Hussey and forwards Ron Puskarich, Stu Laframboise and Bobby Brix the Warriors swept through the league undefeated and hardly touched. However, second half injuries hampered the hoopsters and they were ousted by Lakehead University in a double overtime thriller in the Nationals.

The rivalry became more fierce in the summer of 1973 when former Georgian player Mike Hickey was appointed head coach of the Sir George cagers. He quickly hit the recruiting trail and brought in the likes of Zan Pelzer, Eddie Fields, Randy Phillips and Charlie Chambers to compliment the talented Brethel.

While Hickey and the Georgians stole most of the early headlines, a quiet Doug Daigneault confidently prepared his squad for the first showdown. Before a capacity crowd, the Warriors stunned Sir George 86-69. Loyola went on to win two of the three remaining league games to finish first in the Q.U.A.A. and set the stage for the most memorable playoff game in Quebec history.

Friday, February 22, 1974 Once again the two teams squared off before an overflowing crowd, this time for all the marbles. The Georgians, behind the hot outside shooting of Chambers and Fields, took a slim one point lead at halftime. In the Loyola locker room, coach Daigneault fired up his team and they raced to an eight point lead midway through the final period. But the Georgians rallied behind Chambers and tied the score with a minute remaining. Loyola tried to hold the ball for the last shot, but sub John Zukauskas forced a turnover and it was Sir George's opportunity for a game winning shot. The Georgians tried to work the ball to Georgian fans celebrate overtime victory over Loyola.

Chambers as the seconds ticked off, but the Loyola defense denied him the ball. Then with two seconds left in the contest, Brethel drove through two defenders and hit a soft jumper at the buzzer, which gave Sir George the victory.

The Georgians wrapped up their first-ever Q.U.A.A. crown the next night as they defeated McGill in advance to the C.I.A.U. Nationals in Waterloo. The Georgians played well in Waterloo, defeating Ottawa in the first round and dropping a double overtime game to the eventual national champions, Guelph Gryphons.

However, time had not elapsed on the cross-town competitors. Sir George approached the 1974-75 season without two-time All-Canadian Tom Brethel, Charlie Chambers and Eddie Fields. Hickey came up with two excellent recruits in ballhandler Carl Whitfield and Mike Moore. Whitfield took over Brethel's ballhandling duties, while Moore soon proved to be the best "big man" in the Canada.

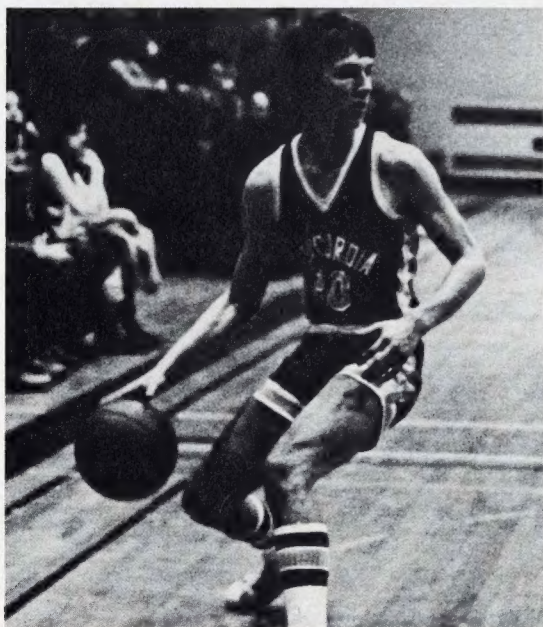

Daigneault had seven lettermen returning from the previous year. Led by league All-Stars, John Erglis, Ron Puskarich and John Dore, the Warriors fielded a well-balanced offensive attack.

The inside game of Moore and Pelzer appeared to be too strong for Loyola. Sir George took two of three league games to win the regular season title and set the stage for another "winner-take-all" playoff game.

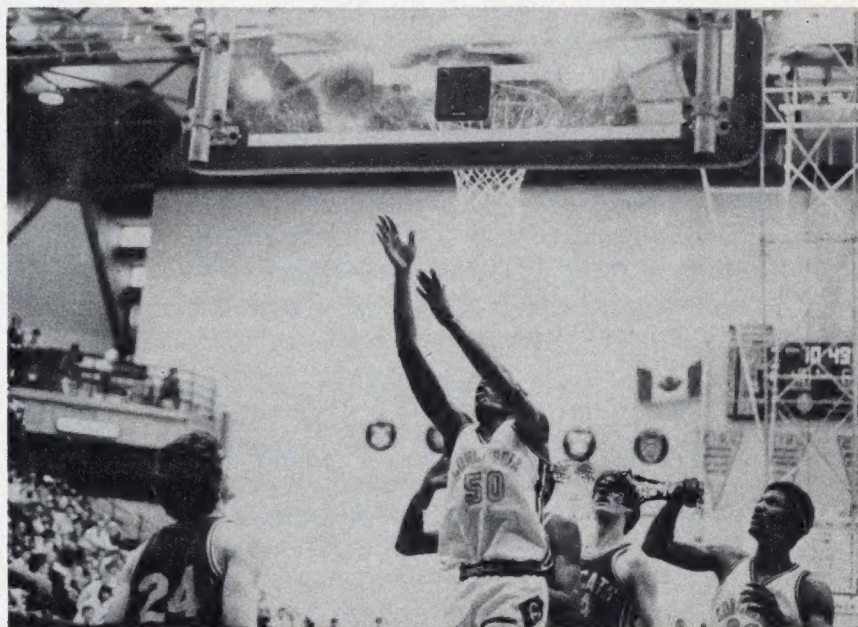

Saturday, February 24, 1975 The Warriors spent a year waiting to avenge their playoff loss to Sir George, and were gratified this night with a 72-61 victory. Daigneault's cagers took a 32-29 halftime lead and except for one brief surge when the Georgians took a momentary 45-44 lead, Loyola controlled the game. All-Canadian, Ron Puskarich led a well-balanced attack with 19 points as the Warriors advanced to their 4th National appearance under coach Daigneault.

Both Loyola and Sir George advanced to the C.I.A.U. Nationals that year (Sir George as the wild card selection), the first time two Quebec schools participated in a National Championship and it was the last time either school would field a basketball team.

An executive order from the Concordia Board of Governors merged the two athletic departments. The merger left cage fans with only memories of the match-ups, Brethel-Erglis, Pelzer-Puskarich, the grace of Moore, the determination of Dore. But oh what memories

GARY McKEIGAN QUAA ALL-STAR

As Concordia University prepares defense of their Quebec University Athletic Association basketball title, one player who figures to receive a lot of attention from opposition players is Stingers forward Gary McKeigan.

The 6'5, 195 lbs. Brantford native literally came into his own last year as he led Concordia to a third place finish in the Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union Nationals. McKeigan averaged 18.6 points and 8.4 rebounds a game, was selected "Most Valuable Player" of the York Tournament, as well as being named to the All-Star teams at the Guelph, Ottawa and Concordia tourneys. He set a tournament record in Ottawa scoring 39 points in their final game. Gary was also named the Q.U.A.A. "Athlete of the Week" for the week of February 2nd.

At the National championships in Waterloo, Gary scored 61 points and added 14 rebounds as Concordia finished third with victories over Brandon and St. Francis Xavier, and a loss to the eventual champion, Victoria Vikings.

Following the season, the fine arts major naturally received his fair share of platitudes, including being named Concordia's "Male Athlete of the Year" and "Most Valuable Player"; and All-Star on the Q.U.A.A. dream team. But perhaps the greatest honor of all was an invitation to the Canadian National team tryout camp held in Ottawa last June.

Although Gary did not make the final 12 man squad which represented Canada in the 1981 Student Games in Romania, he did impress everyone who saw him during the five-day tryout.

"There is no doubt about it, Gary is a helluva player," Jack Donohue, National team coach recently said. "If he has a limitation, it is that he is too small to play inside in the international game. At 6'6 he has to battle against 7'0 and 6'11 players. However, if I was coaching a Canadian University team, he is one player I would love to have.

"When we invited him to camp, we had an idea about his ability, but honestly, I never had any idea that he was as good as he showed," Donohue remarked.

This year, Gary expects to show a lot of people just how much he has developed as he and the rest of the Stingers set their sites on a third consecutive Q.U.A.A. title and another opportunity at the elusive National Crown.

All-Canadian nominee Gary McKeigan scores in CIAU Nationals.

Last year was a banner year for All-Canadian Joann "Bucky" Borque as she received numerous awards and helped lead the Concordia Stingers to a fifth-place ranking in Canada. The third year Recreation student from New Bedford, Massachusetts has come a long way in basketball since her high school days at Bishop Stang, certainly a lot farther than most people expected.

Joann played both field hockey and basketball at Bishop Stang but excelled in track and field. She was selected to represent Massachusetts in the 1978 United States Junior Olympics track and field in which she threw the javelin. In fact her high school basketball coach told her that she should give up playing basketball to concentrate on track and field—advice she decided to ignore.

"I suppose I was better in track and field, but basketball and field hockey were more fun," Borque recalls. "I figured that it would be good if I could play field hockey or basketball while at college but it was not a priority."

Ms. Borque headed north to Concordia and quickly tried out for the field hockey team. Several members of the basketball team spotted her in the gym before a field hockey practice and persuaded her to try out for the cage squad.

Playing on a veteran laded team, Joann had flashes of brilliance and mediocrity, displaying inconsistency which greatly frustrated head coach Mike Hickey. "You could tell that Joann had exceptional talent, but her skills were very weak," coach Hickey stated. "For the first two months I questioned whether or not she really wanted to develop as a basketball player. But then we played in a tournament in Connecticut before her family and friends in which she was outstanding. I knew then she had the potential to be a great player, it was simply a matter of her realizing her potential and pursuing it."

That summer Borque worked on improving her game and had a banner year, leading the Stingers in scoring and rebounding, being selected to the Q.U.A.A. All-Star team and receiving an All-Canadian nomination. But the best was yet to come.

Last year the Stingers fielded a young team and the role of team leaders was assumed by Joann and Gay Owens. And both players responded well, giving their best performances against their top opponents.

In the Concordia Classic she scored 78 points and grabbed 18 rebounds en route to being named "Most Valuable Player" of the prestigious tourney. She continued her outstanding play, leading the Quebec league in scoring and rebounding and became the first female Concordia player to be named to the C.I.A.U. All-Canadian team.

This year presents further challenges as she makes the transition from forward to guard and the Stingers go after another appearance at the National Tournament. Joann plans on working with children after she graduates with a major in recreation.

MIKE HICKEY HEAD WOMEN'S COACH

Mike began his coaching career at the tender age of 24 when he took the reins of the Sir George Williams Georgians men's team in 1974. He directed the Georgians to an overall 56-18 record including two trips to the Nationals in a two year stint. Coach Hickey assumed the role of women's coach of the Concordia team following the Loyola-Sir George merger.

In six years as head coach of the women's squad, Mike has amassed a 115-79 record with the Stingers advancing twice to the Nationals, finishing third in 1977 and fifth in 1981. Coach Hickey has twice been named Quebec University Athletic Association's "Coach of the Year".

However, his coaching career has not been limited to Concordia. Mike has been involved with the Canadian National program beginning in 1976 when he became the first coach of the Canadian Junior National Women's team. He has also worked with Jack Donohue with the Canadian National men's team for the past three summers.

In addition, Hickey annually co-ordinates clinics for the Royal Bank Junior Olympic program and is co-director of the Fast Break Basketball Camp.

Mike played one year at St. Michael's College (Vermont) where he obtained a B.A. degree in 1971. He was Q.U.A.A. All-Star while taking post-graduate studies at Sir George.

GAY OWENS ASSISTANT COACH

Coach Owens embarks on her coaching career this season after an illustrious career at Concordia. Last year was her finest as she sparked the Stingers to a fifth place finish in the C.I.A.U. Nationals. Gay, Concordia's all-time leading scorer, was a Quebec All-Star three times and former member of the Canadian Junior National team. Coach Owens graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Recreation and plans on a career in the recreation field.

BRIAN PETERSEN ASSISTANT COACH

Brian begins his third year with the Concordia's women's team. He began his coaching career with the highly successful Chateaugay Screaming Eagles bantam girls team. Brian, who has taught and coached at West Hill High School, is presently teaching physical education at Chateaugay Valley Regional High School. A strong motivator and leader, Brian will co-ordinate the Stingers scouting and recruiting this season.

FLASHBACK

Women's basketball became a priority on the Loyola Campus the day Pat Boland was appointed Women's Athletic Director. The former National team member immediately set up to develop a top-rated program.

Ms. Boland's first step was the establishment of the Loyola Invitational Women's Basketball Tournament in 1972. Originally a four-team tourney, it grew in size and stature over the years. It soon expanded to eight teams and with the merger of Loyola and Sir George in 1975, the name was changed to the Concordia Classic.

1976-77 Co-Captain Janet Seale battles for a rebound.

The women's basketball program received another shot in the arm when Mike Hickey became head coach of the team following the Sir George-Loyola merger. Hickey posted an 18-17 record his first year and quickly started to build a talented team. With a nucleus of six veterans (Janet Seale, Paddie Chiara, Elaine Betchinski, Jackie Zurpdji, Edina Bayne and Gail Baker) Hickey recruited four rookies in Cheryl Petersen and Debbie Huband from John Abbott, Gay Owens from Nepean High School and Wanda Hines from Burlington (Vt.) High School. Add two local National team players by the names of Sylvia Sweeney and Liz Silcott and you have the makings of a powerful squad.

While Concordia was preparing for league play, it was business as usual in Sudbury, Ontario where head coach Norm Vickery was preparing the Laurentian Vees for their defense of the C.I.A.U. National Crown. Vickery had built a dynasty in the frozen north, combining the talented hard-working players with a keen coaching mind, which gave Laurentian two consecutive Canadian Championships and a perfect record against Canadian University opponents during that period. If Concordia had a claim to the number one spot in the country, they would have to get past Laurentian first.

The first opportunity for a meeting between the two teams came in the 1976 Concordia Classic. The host Stingers advanced to the finals with victories over Ottawa University and St. Mary's, while Laurentian easily handled the University of New Brunswick and St. Francis Xavier to set the stage for the confrontation. Here is Mike Boone's version of the game as reported in the Montreal Star.

Saturday, November 27, 1976 "For the moment, Concordia Stingers are the best women's basketball team in Canada. Concordia laid claim to the title Saturday with a 72-67 win over the Laurentian Vees in the final of the Concordia Invitational. It was the first time in the five-year history of the tournament that the host school has won it.

Chances are the title game provided a preview of the National University Championship scheduled for Calgary in March. The loss to undefeated Concordia was the first of the season for Laurentian, defending National champs.

The final climaxed two days of competition involving eight teams and the best players in the country, including seven members of Canada's Olympic Games team.

Laurentian sprinted to a 12-6 lead in the early minutes of the championships, mainly on the strength of Chris Critelli's four short-range baskets. Concordia got most of its scoring from the three women who shone throughout the tournament. National team member Sylvia Sweeney led all scorers with 26 points and was named to the All-Star team as was teammate Elaine Bethcinski, who netted 16.

Joining Sweeney and Bethcinski on the All-Stars were Donna Hobbin of St. Mary's, Gail Klaver of Simon Fraser and Critelli, whose 24 points were high for Laurentian in the championship game. Liz Silcott, though she wasn't an All-Star, was selected the Tournament's "Most Valuable Player". Twice booted off the National team and controversial player throughout her career, Silcott played brilliantly.

P.S. The long awaited rematch never did occur. The Winnipeg Lady Wesmen ambushed the Stingers in the semi-finals of the C.I.A.U. Nationals 78-74, despite a 26 point performance by Sylvia Sweeney. Laurentian captured their third consecutive title the next day as they defeated Winnipeg 60-50.

Schenley O.F.C.: the only 8-Year Old that's guaranteed right on the back of the bottle.

Canadian law requires distillers to place a stamp on their whisky bottles showing the year the whisky was distilled.

With Schenley O.F.C., we go a lot further. We certify that our whisky has been aged in charred white oak casks, for a full 8 years.

We believe 8 years is a perfect aging time for whisky. When it reaches its prime for a smooth, mellow taste.
